Presentation to Florida House of Representatives Subcommittee on Tourism and Economic Development
Michael O'Neil & Max Pomeranc - Airbnb

a castle for a week,

A photograph of a man and a woman standing in the shallow water of a beach at sunset. The man, on the left, is shirtless and holding a blue surfboard. The woman, on the right, is wearing a dark one-piece swimsuit and has her hands clasped in front of her, smiling. The background shows a city skyline and mountains under a golden sky. Other people are visible in the water in the distance.

The image features a solid red background with a dense, repeating pattern of hand-drawn, teardrop-shaped outlines. Each teardrop contains a small, hand-drawn circle in its center. The lines are dark red and have a slightly irregular, sketchy quality. In the center of the image, the text "Who is doing this?" is written in a clean, white, sans-serif font.

Impacts of Induced Travel

While Airbnb encourages more people to travel and to stay longer in the cities they visit, the study found that the environmental benefits of home sharing far outweigh the impacts of this induced travel. The result is good for everyone: Airbnb's new model of sustainable tourism conserves precious resources even as more people have memorable trips.
